

The Ultimate Keto Easter Dinner

Being dedicated to a Keto diet can be stressful during Easter dinner, but enjoying a hearty meal with your family does not have to be so hard! Combining familiar flavours with Keto twists takes the hassle out of the holiday.

To make it easier for you, we've put together a list of our five favourite Easter-inspired Keto dishes to help you feed your family and stick to your meal plan! Don't sacrifice flavour when it comes to these recipes!

Get together with your family, eat plenty, and enjoy!

Low-Carb Pineapple Baked Ham

Serve up everybody's favorite Easter dish simplified to fit into your Keto diet. Pineapple, dijon mustard, and honey fill this main course with loads of flavor, fun and healthy fats.

Easy Bacon and Chive Keto Deviled Eggs

This famous appetizer features every Keto enthusiast's dream ingredient: eggs. Add some crispy bacon and fresh chives for a twist that will leave your family asking for more.

Buttery Green Beans With Almonds

A classic side dish, green bean almondine is our go-to accompaniment for any Easter feast. Silky-smooth butter and crispy almonds give this dish a texture and taste worth savouring every bite.

Low-Carb "Potato" Gratin

Our "potato" gratin is every Keto's dream. Subbing out potatoes with rutabaga gives this dish the low-carb swing we're all aiming for during the Easter feast. Packed with loads of cheese and crispy bacon, you'll want to make this again and again.

Keto Lemon Meringue Pie

Go for this old-school recipe with a Keto twist. Loads of butter and tangy, fresh lemon make this pie flakey, smooth and to-die-for! Trust me: this is the real deal.

And there you have it—an easy guide to making a delicious Easter meal that the whole family can enjoy. We've got you covered when it comes to serving up low-carb, healthy meals.

I can guarantee that your family will be asking you to make these dishes year after year.
